

Free MRP evaluation workshop dates

Rent-IT Systems has announced several dates for free evaluation workshops for companies considering implementing a production management system.

The events, hosted at the company's headquarters in Southampton not only demonstrate the features of the 123MRP production management system, but also show users effective methods of evaluating and implementing any MRP system.

Evaluation workshops will be run on 27th May, 24th June and 22nd July. Each event starts at 10:00am and runs for approximately 2½ hours. Attendees are welcome to stay afterwards to discuss questions on a one-to-one basis.

Guy Amoroso, managing director says: "We've found that many traditional systems can take months to evaluate and then months or even years to implement, which many companies do not take into consideration. We have eradicated all of the bottlenecks associated with these methods, allowing companies to integrate a powerful MRP system within weeks or in some cases a matter of days."
